

ALONE / AURA

Alone portrays the emotions linked to thought. The sensation of detachment from the world which surrounds us, even if we are in the midst of a crowd, we are alone with our thoughts. There is an aura that surrounds us, a world that only we know, at times thoughts do not become words - some remain only emotions.

THE WINE

Thought, solitude recalls a poem by Giacomo Leopardi in which he describes the joyfulness of a solitary sparrow. The poet creates an analogy between man and animal. This bird gives its name to the grape in this wine - La Passerina is the name given to the grape by vintners because, in winter, the sparrows ate the grapes left on the vine. The wine is characterised by its fresh taste and aromas of exotic fruits. It is a bright straw-coloured white wine. The vine is eclectic and can be used to produce a sparkling and moderately aged wine.
